Hondkong, November 27th, 1876.

It is satisfactory to learn, on the authority of the Shanghai Courier, that the Chinese Government, lias, on the invitation of M BRENIER DE MONTMORAND, the French Minister at Peking, decided to participate in the Paris Exhibition of 1878. Mr. HART, the Inspector-General of Customs, will, as in the case of the Vienna Exhibition of 1873 and the Centennial Exhibition at Philade! phia, be asked to make the necessary collections and contributions; and there is, consequently, every reason to believe that China will be worthily represented in the great show at Paris. It is a good and healthy sign to find the Government of Peking willing to so far break through-its-prejudices as to join in an exhibition in a foreign and distant country. In all probability, the example of Japan has not been lost upon it. It is sagacious enough to know that hese exhibitions act as gigantic advertisements. by means of which the productions of the various countries represented are made universally known, and a demand for them often created thereby. And it would be morti: fying to the Chinese Government, in spite of its assumed contempt for foreigners, if a large portion of the money they have hitherto spent in China should be diverted to Japan. Much as the Chinese officials, hate foreigners and foreign institutions, they are by no means blind to the advantages that spring from

Kingdom to the Paris Exhibition. In addition to this reason there is another which, no doubt, in some measure influences them. They would not like to be accused of entering into a rivilry with Japan, which country they his pledge, as any such payment, he thought. regard as greatly inferior in Status to China, would be morally wrong. - Shanghai Courier. but secretly they know that she is their rival in some things, and they do not care to allow her an uncontested field. There is thus, it will be seen, a good prospect of China being always to the fore in these great industrial shows, and it is peculiarly fitting that she out entirely successful, and gave great and should be. Her productions and manufactures are varied, important, and interesting. Her foreign trade is likely to go on extend. Cfforts doubtless proved an ample reward to the ing, and it may be promoted considerably by these exhibits. The people of Europe will, undience. There was a good house. Everything that tends, in however small a degree, to rub off their prejudices and diffuso a more accurate knowledge of Western civilisation and inventions among youngeters yesterday. I am sure no one could the Chinese must be regarded with satisfaction, as agents in the great work of opening up their country and breaking up the old exclusive system. It is to be he, d that the time will come some day-though it may be distant now-when an international industrial exhibition may be held at Poking or one

WHETHER or no the enemies of Fine, the Futai of Foukien, really sought to get him removed from his present office, or whether his application for leave to resign was prompted by a genuine desire to be relieved from the burdens and responsibilities of office, it is certain that the Chinese Government has decided to keep a good servant. The probability is, however, that the Futai of competency, of No. 13,887, be suspended for was perfectly in earnest in asking leave to resign his appointment, for it is well known 24th day of November, 1876. that he has for some time been suffering from ill-health. It would appear from his case and that of the late Grand Secretary, WEN-SIANG, who was never allowed to rotire from office altogether, that a high Chinese official cannot readily retire into private life. The real fact probably is, however, that it is considered a tribute to the matter. THE adoption recently by the Chinese Government of new salvago regulations would seem to have had some effect upon the treatment by the people on the coast of shipwrecked mariners. At all events two instances, have recently been recorded of humane and kindly treatment being extended lowards distressed mariners. The Peking Gazette of the 19th ultimo contains a report, according to which a number of Loochoons, who had been driven by stress of weather on the coast of Fohkien, were properly cared for while in Foochow, and eventually sent back, with-a-month's provisions, in their own craft, after it had been examined and found staunch enough for the voyage. Since then a party of eight shipwrocked Coreans liave Leen brought into Foodbow, where they were kindly received by the Authorities, and despatched to the North in one of the Chinese gunboats, with the intention of forwarding them on to their own country. It is gratifying to find that the Chinese Authorities are waking up to their duty to others. They have doubtless been induced to pay attention to these waifs from prudential reasons, and have been, perhaps, partly shamed into such a display of humanity. But whatever the cause, it is matter for congratulation among Western nations, that a Government which of poor people wrecked upon its coast, and Howed-thom to be plumbered and mailtree instead of granting them assistance, has so far conformed to the usages of civilised Powers as to proffer help to the distressed mariners of other nations thrown upon its

HORRIBLE ORUELTIES BY

MONTENEGRINS. A Times' correspondent writes from Nish :-During the last few days irregular bands of Serviant have pressed on towards Orkub, Kurchucili, and Svetinicola, burnt 19 Furkish villages, drove away the cattle from two (Ibristian districts, and murdered six Mussulmans. It is the way in which the Servians observe the suspension of hostilities, taking divantage of it to do deeds of downright violence. Another correspondent says that Captain Von Wickede, the well-known German military author, has published a letter from an English staff officer in the Turkish camp. According to this letter the Russian officers and non-commissioned officers in the Servian army wear the Russian uniform, and arrive at Belgrade fully equipped for the war. They are men on tempoeary leave of absence. Those taken prisoners declare that they were desired to go, and would have lost all hope of promotion had they resisted the nutho intive summons addressed to them. The writer also states that in the hospital at Podgoritza he has just seen 40 Turkish soldiers who were taken prisoners by the Montenegrins. and had their cars, noses, and lipacut off by these charitable Christians. After this process they were stripped of their clothes and flogged back to the Turkish camp. The writer concludes by stating that the fact of Russia having gone to war with Turkey when she pretends to be at peace has kindle a desperate enthusiasm in the Tarkish troops.

AFFAIRS IN PERU. A letter from Limn in the Börsenzeitung says that the state of political affairs in Peru is again becoming very unsettled. Noisy meetings have been held by the members of the various parties; and after one of these, which took place in the cathedral square, the mob became so excited that it proceeded with ories of "To the lantern! Give up the eight millions you have stolen!" to the house of the ex-President Manuel Prado. Fortunately the iron railing in the court-yard resisted the first efforts of the rioters, and President Prado, who came up just in time, succeeded, with the sesistance of the troops, in saving his predecessor from the fate inflicted on the brothers Gutierrez in July, 1872. In his message to LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOB the Congress, the new President made some interesting remarks on the state of the Peruvian finances. In the year 1868, he said, when he was driven from office by Colonel Bulta, the State debt amounted to about 40,000,000 soles; and if the financial schemesthen in operation had been honestly carried out, the debt would have disappeared in 1871, by which time all Pern's creditors would have been paid in full. This, however, was far from being the case, as is shown by the fact that the State debt is now 200,000,000 soles, and that the guano deposits, which might otherwise be of so much service in promoting the intellectual and material development of the country are mortgaged for the purpose of discharging the obligations of the debt. "There is no nation," he added " which is provided by nature with greater means for developing its industry and prosperity than ours; yet, instead of being great and powerful, as we might be, we are orashed under a load o debt," The first Cabinet appointed by the new President was a condition one, under the reactionist ex-Minister Dr. Arenas; but the latter has since resigned, and been succeeded by Di La Ross. The Minister of Finance is Dr. Ar of President Balta. EXTRADITION. The question of extradition has come unde debate in the International and Municipal Law Section of the Social Science Congress; and the discussion very faithfully reflected the change which has taken place in public opinion upon this question. Two of the speakers, indeed, may be said to have represented the reaction from the former eraggerated tenderness for the rights of the other extreme of affording them insufficient protection. The question was opened by Mr. Westlake, Q C., who read a paper on the limits within which the two questions whether political offences should be excluded from extradition arrangements, and whother they should be subject to the condition that the person carrendered should only be tried for the offence for which the surrender was made. On the first he came to a conclusion in the affirmative, and on the second in the negative. He contended that if the trial of the offender were limited to offences within the extradition treaties there would be ample security against the apprehension that he might be tried for a political offence. In the discussion which occurre ! later on two speakers contended that political criminals ought not to be excluded from extradition treaties; but the sense of the meeting, as declared by the president, Mr. Herschell, Q.C., expressed itself in the sound conclusion that, "however-desirable it might be to surrender certain political offenders, it would be almost impossible to find a definition which might not endanger the liberty of those who all would agree ought not to be given up." Another and very important branch of the subject was opened in a paper read by Mi Dickinson, in which it was argued that "extrathat a general municipal law would enable us to give up offenders for every offence for which it was deemed right that such provisions should be made." Discussion may possibly elicit some at present unsuspected objections to this propossi, but on two grounds, at any rate, commends itself to the judgment. It would put an end once for all to all international difficulties of the "Winslow" sort, and it strikes at the

ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY WITH THE PUNTE AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An ANGLO-CHINESE DICTIONARY, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

TAOR comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are Underwriting Business pro rata to amount of given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typo-RUSSELL & Co., graphy displays the success of an attempt to Agents. make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not proviously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vust scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration. Orders for Copies may be sent to the Daily halmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst MAGAO Mr. L. DISCOVERY OF AN EXTRAORDINARY CAVERN IN FRANCE.

The discovery of an enormous grotto at Burgus, in Spain, has been followed by the accidental discovery of another in France which will be still more interesting to anthropologists. As some workmen were engaged in the extraction of Jura limestone from a quarry close to Belfort, having sprung a mine for the nurpose, they remarked a small hole that seemed to belong to some cavity. Having widened this opening with lamps, they found themselves in a vast cavers, the floor of which was about 6ft. lower than the orifice. Their surprise was increased on seeing heaps of human skulls and bones lying about, as if this place had once been a vast charnel-house. No door, no opening whatever, but that which they thomselves had made in a wall of unbroken rock, could be discovered. The alarm was given, and the engineers and city authorities were soon ou the spot. A thorough search iwo miles porth-west of Belfort. On one
